

Atsuko Kanehara

Professor of International Law at Sophia University. Member of the Governing Board for IMO International Maritime Law Institute. Councilor for the Sasakawa Peace Foundation. Advocate for the Government of Japan in “Southern Bluefin Tuna” Cases. Counsel for the Government of Japan in “Whaling in the Antarctic” Case. Policy Adviser for the Japan Coast Guard. She delivered lectures, entitled “Reassessment of the Acts of the State in the Law of State Responsibility—A Proposal of an Integrative Theoretical Framework of the Law of State Responsibility to Effectively Cope with the Internationally Harmful Acts of Non-State Actors” at The Hague Academy of International Law in 2017. Her recent publication in International Law Studies, Vol. 97, (2021), is “Refining Japan’s Integrative Position on the Territorial Sovereignty of the Senkaku Islands.”