

Circulated in more than 130 States to personalities in the legal and maritime professions

IMLI e-News

The IMO International Maritime Law Institute Official Electronic Newsletter (Vol. 14, Issue No. 62) 1 August 2017

THE NIPPON FOUNDATION LECTURESHIP POSITION ON INTERNATIONAL MARITIME SECURITY LAW OPENS AT IMLI

The IMO International Maritime Law Institute (IMLI) wishes to bring to the attention of its esteem readers the opening at the Institute of the teaching position of ‘The Nippon Foundation Lecturer on International Maritime Security Law.’

The IMO International Maritime Law Institute (IMLI) Premises

This position was established in 2010 under the second component of the Human Resources Development Project for the Advancement of a More Effective Global Legal Order for the Oceans between The Nippon Foundation and the Institute.

The position aims to improve the legal framework for the enhancement of maritime security both on board ships and at ports and promote the cooperation among States in the fight against piracy and armed robbery at sea in many parts of the world specifically in the Straits of Malacca and off the coast of Somalia. The position also promotes, in the widest possible range, the adoption of international regulations relating to maritime security with emphasis on the prevailing circumstances in the Gulf of Aden and off the coast of Somalia.

The Institute is seeking to employ a talented young person who will serve under the general supervision of the Director. The successful candidate will participate in the general teaching of international maritime law, participate in the development of the Institute's Course on International Maritime Security Law, and contribute to the promotion of teaching and research in international maritime security law both in Malta and abroad. Female candidates are encouraged to apply.

For more information about this vacant position, including the application procedure, required qualifications, application deadline and salary information, please refer to the attached IMLI Alert.

 If you do not want to receive IMLI e-News in future, please return this message to the above address with request to DELETE in the subject field.*

 For further information please contact Mr. Buba Bojang (Editor, IMLI e-News) at publications@imli.org*

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR THE POSITION OF THE NIPPON FOUNDATION LECTURER ON INTERNATIONAL MARITIME SECURITY LAW

The IMO International Maritime Law Institute would like to bring to the attention of its e-news readers the following call for applications:

THE NIPPON FOUNDATION LECTURESHIP ON INTERNATIONAL MARITIME SECURITY LAW

| | |
|--|--|
| Vacancy announcement number: VN-02-17. Date of Entry on Duty: 1 October 2017 Contract information: Fixed term contract for one year with a possibility of extension for a further year. | Date of Issue: 18 July 2017 Deadline for applications: 21 August 2017 Salary information: Up to €29,600 net per annum. Rental and travel subsidy. |
| Purpose of the post Under the overall supervision of the Director, the successful candidate will participate in the general teaching of international maritime law, participate in the development of the Institute's Course on International Maritime Security Law, and contribute to the promotion of teaching and research in international maritime law both in Malta and overseas. | Required competencies a) Experience and ability to establish and maintain effective working relations in a multi-cultural context. b) Highly developed oral and written communication skills in English and preferably another UN language. c) Integrity, professionalism, discretion, accuracy, and organizational skills. d) Ability to review and edit the work of students. e) Ability to work collaboratively with colleagues to achieve the Institute's goals and willingness to learn from others. f) A high degree of initiative and ability to work under pressure are essential. |
| Professional Experience At least 2 years of experience in the teaching of international maritime law. Previous experience in the teaching of international maritime security law is highly desirable. | |
| Education Degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) (particular focus on international maritime security law would be an advantage). | |
| Language Skills As the Institute's working language is English, a high level of proficiency in English is essential. Knowledge of one or more of the official languages of the United Nations will be an advantage. | |
| Other Skills Good computer skills are essential. Familiarity and experience in supervising research work or in the development of maritime legislation would be an advantage. Applicants should submit at least two samples of their written research work. | |
| How to apply This vacancy is open to male and female candidates. The Institute seeks to increase the number of women at all levels; women, particularly, are therefore invited to apply. Applications must be accompanied by (i) a covering letter stating the reasons for applying and relevant experience to the post; (ii) an up to date Curriculum Vitae; (iii) two references (referees must send a confidential letter to the Director to the address below); (iv) a photograph; and (v) a piece of published research (one digital copy forwarded by email and one hard copy sent by mail). Applications should be sent to the following e-mail address: director@imli.org. Please state Vacancy Number VN-02-17 in the subject line. | |
| Candidates may also send applications to: The Director (VN-02-17) | |

IMO International Maritime Law Institute
Msida Heights, Tal-Qroqq
P.O. Box 31, MSD 1000
Msida, Malta

Please do not send applications via multiple routes.

Your application will be acknowledged only in the case that you are short-listed for interview.

 If you do not want to receive IMLI e-News in future, please return this message to the above address with request to DELETE in the subject field.*

 For further information please contact Mr. Buba Bojang at publications@imli.org*

IMLI ALERT No. 10