

PRECAUTIONARY SAFETY MEASURES AT IMLI

IMLI is taking precautionary measures against the spread of COVID-19 in order to protect its students and Members of Staff. It is undertaking major efforts not to upset its academic work and to remain open as long as possible taking into consideration the unique nature of the Institute.

In this regard, the Institute has established the COVID-19 Emergency Action Team to coordinate the performance of a number of precautionary measures and tasks including the extra sterilization of surfaces and cleaning and sterilization of all AC filters. Additionally, strict policies concerning the working conditions of Members of Staff (compulsory use of hand sanitizers, spare shoes for indoor area, avoid direct contact as much as possible and use telephone instead) have been introduced. The health and safety of IMLI students and Members of Staff remain the Director's number one priority.
