ADMISSIONS PROCESS TO IMLI'S MASTER PROGRAMMES CONTINUES

We would like to bring to the attention of our readers that the IMLI is accepting applications to its Master of Laws (LL.M.) programme in International Maritime Law and Master of Humanities (M.Hum.) in international Maritime Legislation.

The programmes are particularly suitable for government officials who are directly involved in the maritime affairs of their countries. Over 40 fellowships are available for deserving government nominated candidates. Small Island Developing States and Least Developed Countries are a priority for the Institute and its donors. In line with its goal of empowering women in maritime affairs, 50 per cent of the places to these programmes are reserved for deserving women candidates.

Since its inception in 1988, the Institute has trained nearly 1,100 experts from 147 States and territories who are serving the rule of international maritime law.

Join this formidable network of maritime leaders by applying to these programmes by 31 May 2021.
