IMLI COURSE ON SEAFARERS' RIGHTS

IMLI has been in the vanguard in raising awareness on the importance of maritime labour standards. In line with this mission, IMLI is offering for the third consecutive time the IMLI Course on Seafarers' Rights commencing on Thursday 9 February 2023. The intensive Course reiterates the Institute's commitment to the protection of seafarers in line with the international efforts spearheaded by the IMO and ILO amongst others.

Professor Dr. Norman A. Martínez Gutiérrez (Director, IMLI) will deliver the welcoming address and Ms. Beatriz Vacotto (Head of the Maritime Unit, International Labour Standards Department, ILO) will deliver the Inaugural Address.

This specialized Course will address many aspects of maritime labour law, including the characteristics of international maritime labour law, the functions of ILO, IMO, ITF and other organisations committed to the protection of seafarers' rights, the different international instruments dealing with seafarers, their rights and duties, with particular emphasis on the Maritime Labour Convention 2006 (MLC), COVID-19 challenges for seafarers and developments in maritime labour standards post-COVID-19.

This Course will be delivered in a hybrid mode, thus allowing external participants to attend either online or in situ.

To apply, please contact us by not later than 5 February 2023 via email: ramat.jalloh@imli.org. Please click here for further information.
